

Angled Dish

DESIGNER
Unknown

MANUFACTURER
Seguso Vetri d'Arte

A stunning blush-colored angled blown glass dish dating from the early 1970s by Murano workshop Seguso Vetri d'Arte. The beautiful pale rose- or pink-colored dish seems to glow from within when hit by light. The graceful combination of curves and angles coupled with the high quality of craftsmanship creates a visually-arresting object that recalls a jewel or crystal more than a simple dish. Incised "Seguso V d'Arte" signature to underside.

YEAR: CIRCA 1970
MATERIALS: BLOWN GLASS
DIMENSIONS: H. 2.1" W. 5.5" D. 6.5"
CONDITION: EXCELLENT VINTAGE CONDITION
MINOR SURFACE WEAR